Fragile Alliance Totters

Could Affect Future of War

MOSCOW (AP) — The fragile Soviet-Chinese alliance on Viet Nam appeared today to have been shattered by a bitter new exchange between Moscow and Peking.

Observers here believed the dispute between the two Communist powers could have a profound long-range effect on the future of the war in Southeast Asia.

Blames Peking Goal

The Soviet Union implied on Thursday that the Chinese were seeking to touch off a world war over Viet Nam in hopes this would unite the Communist bloc.

The Kremlin's official policy mouthpiece, Pravda, chided the Chinese. It said that true Communists should spend their time "not in waiting for a world war to break out, but in averting a chain of events that is liable to trigger it off."

Peking snapped back Friday with an angry charge that the Russians were "abetting the U.S. imperialist plot of peace negotiations and trying to subordinate the Viet Nam question to their general line of peaceful coexistence and Soviet-U.S. cooperation to extinguish the Vietnamese people's revolutionary struggle."

The Chinese attack was distributed by the official New China News Agency. Its publication the day after the Pravda article seemed clearly intended as a reply to Moscow's rebuke.

The stinging Soviet-Chinese exchange came only three months after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin announced during his visit to Asia that "imperialist provocations" in Viet Nam had brought the Soviet Union and China together in determination "to curb the aggressors."

Soviet Shows Irritation

The Russians have shown signs of irritation over Chinese inflexibility on the question of negotiations to seek a settlement of the Viet Nam Crisis.

Now that their underlying differences over Viet Nam have been aired publicly the two Communist rivals may be expected to continue the polemic openly, observers believed.

A Hungarian Politburo official hinted earlier this week that if agreement is reached on Viet Nam policy, the Russians and their supporters might renew the call for a showdown conference of world Communist parties which was shelved earlier this year because of China's refusal to attend.

Whatever the disruptive effects of the latest Soviet-Chinese argument on the rest of the Communist movement, observers doubted the Russians would back out of their pledges of military aid to North Viet Nam.

It was believed the Russians would continue the arms deliveries — possibly including Soviet antiaircraft missiles.

Groundfire Heavy in North Viet

Fear Cong Try To Cut Forces

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — U.S. war planes dumped 12 tons of bombs today on Hon Nieu Island 130 miles north of the 17th Parallel destroying an antiaircraft battery, two buildings and a radar tower, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Others Slam Bridges

The strike force of six Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and supporting jets ran into heavy groundfire during the 20-minute attack, the spokesman said. But all returned safely.

Earlier U.S. Navy planes hit bridges and barges about 160 miles south of Hanoi.

Eight aircraft from the carrier Oriskany severely damaged a wooden highway bridge and a barge and then struck at two highway bridges under construction, damaging them slightly.

Military spokesmen said the planes were over the target area for about 35 minutes and dropped almost three tons of bombs. They also used their rockets and cannons. All the aircraft returned safely to the carrier, the spokesman said.

Viet Cong attacks spread through the northernmost 1st Army Corps today amid fears that a major Communist offensive aimed at cutting that region in two may start soon.

A U.S. Army officer was killed and an estimated 30 government troops were slain or wounded in an attack three miles east of the Quang Tri

11 Hurt on Taconic, in Greene

Area Crashes Mar Holiday, Orange Records 28th Death

A Pennsylvania motorist was killed in Orange County, a truck caught fire on the Thruway near Saugerties, six persons were injured on the Taconic Parkway in Dutchess County and five wre hurt in a Greene County traffic accident as the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend got underway in what state police called one of the heaviest holiday weekend traffic loads in history.

Heaviest in Recent Years

Troopers at the Kingston interchange of the Thruway said traffic—particularly northbound—was the heaviest and most continuous in recent history. They said that there was a continuous flow of cars and trucks not only during the afternoon and evening hours, but through the night and this morning. They said that service area attendants reported a continuous stretch of gasoline and motor service and the restaurants reported one of the busiest surges of holiday business in years.

Orange County recorded its 28th traffic fatality of the year about 3 a. m. today when a Pennsylvania motorist was killed in a car-truck collision on Route 6 just east of Route 56 near Middletown.

State police at Middletown substation said that Wayne E. Price II, 20, of 551 South Main Street, Wilkes Barre, Pa., was killed almost instantly. They said a coroner's verdict ruled death accidental.

3 Hurt in Fatal Crash

Injured in the accident were Richard Drazek, 19, of 2214 River Street, Philadelphia, Pa., owner and passenger in the 1959 convertible driven by Price, who suffered fractures to the skull and facial bones and head cuts; Wayne M. Fausey, 34, of Orangeville, Pa., driver of the truck, abrasions of the right shoulder and elbow, and James Fausey, 11, his son and passenger in the truck, right hand abrasions. Drazek remained in Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown, while Fausey and his son were treated and released.

Troopers said that Price was driving west on Route 6 when the car he was driving sideswiped the eastbound vehicle driven by Fausey. They said that Drazek was thrown from his car. The roadway was wet at the

Traffic Toll Is 59 Across U.S., Michigan Leads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic deaths in the early hours of the Memorial Day weekend appeared today to be running near the normal mark for a non-holiday period.

Millions of motorists headed for the highways in the first holiday weekend of spring and first reports since the count started at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday showed 59 traffic deaths. Michigan reported seven fatalities; Ohio four; Missouri three; two each in Illinois and Indiana and one each in California, North Carolina, Texas and Washington. One drowning also was reported.

In the first three months this year traffic deaths averaged about 100 a day. The death toll last year was a record high of more than 48,000.

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 430 and 510 persons will die in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday period, ending at midnight Monday. The record for a three-day observance of Memorial Day was 431 set last year. The lowest total was 204 in 1948.

An Associated Press survey of highway fatalities during a three-day non-holiday weekend period, from 6 p.m. Friday May 14 to midnight Monday May 17, showed a total of 387.

Although Memorial Day officially is Sunday, millions also will have Monday off from work as most business and industrial establishments will be closed.

Urges Resnick Reconsider His Stand on HUAC

The Town of Rochester Republican Club has written Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick suggesting that he "reconsider" his stand against an appropriation to continue funds to support the work of the House Un-American Activities Committee. Congressman Resnick voted against continuation of funds for this work.

Gives Facts Now

A committee was appointed some time ago to write Congressman Resnick's opposing his position on the matter. The committee named is Mrs. Ann Morgan, former president of the Town of Rochester Republican Club and former Town of Rochester Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger of Kerhonkson. The committee was authorized to to make proper research of Congressman Resnick's statements relative to his position on the matter and has now written the congressman giving him the results of that investigation and requesting him to reconsider his position in view of the facts.

Under date of May 24, 1965, the committee, A. Richard Terwilliger and Ann D. Morgan, sent a communication to Congressman Resnick "to protest your recent vote against the appropriation to continue funds to support the work of the House Un-American Activities Committee."

"Obviously, from your many press releases, you are not aware of the accomplishments of this committee," the latter states.

In reply to a statement made by Congressman Resnick in which he asked why HUAC needs the money, what are they charged with, what is its responsibility to the Congress, what legislation it has produced and "what good has it done to the country?" the committee of the Town of Rochester Republican Club committee answers:

"The present House Committee on Un-American Activities came into existence January 3, 1945, and we know that it has continued as a permanent standing committee of the House to the present time. During the years, this committee has made numerous legislative recom-

U.S. Will Keep Tactical Reins Of Peace Force

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The inter-American peace force in the Dominican Republic gets a Brazilian commander today but the United States has made it clear it will retain tactical control.

22,600-Man Force

Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim arrives today to become chief of the 21,000 U.S. troops, 1,170 Brazilian soldiers, 21 Costa Ricans, 250 Hondurans and 159 Nicaraguans.

But Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of U.S. forces here, said Friday he expects to retain control over which troops to use and how to use them in carrying out their mission for the Organization of American States.

Palmer said in an interview he will receive instructions from Alvim or from Jose A. Mora OAS secretary-general, who will work with the inter-American Defense Board in Washington.

"If the OAS and the U.S. government get into a policy conflict, I would have to follow the guidance of my government," Palmer said. "I wear two hats."

600 Marines Depart

Palmer said the peace-keeping force could eventually be reduced to 6,000 men—"assuming that both sides are serious about negotiating a peace settlement and maintaining the cease-fire now in effect."

President Johnson announced Friday he had ordered another 1,700 U.S. troops withdrawn, bringing the total recalled to 3,300. About 600 U.S. Marines left for home Thursday.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a television and radio interview Friday night that the United States would be prepared to remove its force "just as rapidly as he (Alvim) feels it is militarily prudent and safe to do so."

But, he said, "some American troops are likely to stay on in the Dominican Republic for weeks or months."

Rusk added that some Communists are still active in the rebel-held area of downtown Santo Domingo.

Thursday Schedule Still Holds

Plans Near Miss With Spent Rocket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When astronaut Edward H. White II floats away from the Gemini 4 spacecraft, he will use a spacegun to try to move within 20 feet of an orbiting, spent rocket. It will be the world's first redezvous in space.

The dramatic additions to the flight plan of the Gemini 4 — following quickly the announcement that White will leave his craft — were announced Friday by a panel of space agency officials.

Untried by Russians

"If we are successful," said Dr. George E. Mueller, acting director of the Gemini program, "we will have done something the Russians have not tried, although I am sure they have the capability."

At Pad 19 in the Cape Kennedy complex, technicians unseated the Gemini spacecraft from its perch on the nose of a nine-story-tall Titan 2 rocket, replaced a faulty battery, and remated the two.

The battery must be checked out, but officials said that barring further difficulty, Gemini 4 would lift off on time next Thursday morning.

Space buddies White and James A. McDivitt, both Air Force majors, planned to run through highlights of their scheduled four-day mission today.

Describes Sequence

After separation of the spacecraft from the second-stage booster, six minutes after launch, command pilot McDivitt will hold a tight formation with the spent rocket, trailing it by about 300 feet.

During first orbit, the asronauts will depressurize the cabin while pressurizing their space suits. McDivitt will maneuver the 7,600-pound spacecraft to within 25 feet of the burned-out rocket.

To Open Cabin Hatch

White will open his cabin hatch and stand. Then as the spacecraft, now in its second orbit, begins its first pass over the United States, he will float free at the end of a golden umbilical cord.

Using a Buck Rogers-like spacegun that fires jets of oxygen, White will move to within 20 feet of the slowly tumbling rocket, but no closer. "It wouldn't be too wise to approach too close to a tumbling booster," said an official. White will take pictures with a camera mounted on the spacegun. McDivitt will photograph White. After about 10 minutes, White will return to the spacecraft, and the cabin will be repressurized.

About three hours later, at the beginning of the fifth orbit, McDivitt will maneuver from about 16 miles away to within 10 feet of the booster.

Then White and McDivitt will get on with the mission's primary objectives — to test the performance of the spacecraft during a long flight, and to measure the effects of prolonged exposure to weightlessness on the two-man crew. The flight of 97 hours, 50 minutes will be the longest yet for the United States.

Russian Was First

Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov was the first human to venture into space. He floated at the end of a teher without any means of propulsion last March 18.

Dr. Charles Barry, the astronauts' physician, said he was not worried about anything

Wagner Denies Withdrawal Report Spread to Rally Dissident Dems

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he is seriously considering not running for an unprecedented fourth term next November because of personal reasons. A withdrawal likely would have national political repercussions.

The disclosure by the Democratic mayor Friday night, however, was seen by some as a move to rally dissident or indifferent Democrats around him, and that he had no intention of pulling out.

The Brooklyn Democratic organization is bitterly divided over the county leadership of Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, whom Wagner has been trying to depose. Political observers said if Wagner pulled out, it would greatly aid Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in gaining control of the Democratic party in New York.

Wagner, 55, denied his statements were aimed at rallying dissident or lukewarm Democrats.

"I find I can't spend as much time as a father should with his boys," he said, referring to his two sons, Robert Jr., 21, and Duncan, 18. He said he also was considering how much his health might be strained by four more years. He said he would announce his decision "in a week or two."

The mayoral race took on added national significance May 13 with the entry of Rep. John V. Lindsay, East Side Manhattan Republican considered by some as possible presidential material. Lindsay, a proven vote getter in a predominantly Democratic district, viewed his entry at the time as a step toward the revival of the Republican party.

Robert Price, Lindsay's campaign manager, said the congressman would have no immediate comment.

It was learned that the Lindsay camp feels — at least right now — that Wagner has no intention of pulling out.

The mayor emphasized that he had been considering not running long before Lindsay threw his hat into the ring. There was some speculation Wagner might be concerned about losing to Lindsay, even

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Rev. Alfred S. Powell, pastor of the little Strait Gate Church in Mamaroneck, N. Y., is "a man with a dream". Also a man with a monumental, infectious faith that moved every segment of a whole community.

His dream was for a youth center which would serve the community and especially his Washingtonville section. A center where boys and girls could work, play and learn the meaning of faith and citizenship.

Encouraged by a few friends, he started the actual building in September, 1963, with many obstacles ahead. He did a lot of the work himself. Influential people in the community, seeing his faith in action, were inspired. A committee known as The Friends of Strait Gate was formed. They organized a benefit performance in the local theater with local talent. The clergy of the three major faiths got behind it. Municipal officials, local unions, contractors, business people of all types and individuals caught the spirit and responded with time, talent and money.

The benefit netted for the Strait Gate Youth Center $17,500. But it netted far more in understanding, brotherly love and the spirit of working together. As Mr. Powell remarked, "When a community joins hands, anything can be accomplished."

The ordination of John G. Woolsey takes place at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City.

Father Woolsey's first solemn Mass will be at 11 a.m. Sunday and many of his friends from the Kingston area are expected to attend the ceremony at St. Mary's Church.

Father Woolsey, a graduate of Kingston High School, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Romer Woolsey of 365 Broadway. His mother is the former Mary Molyneaux of Kingston.

The ordination today at St. Patrick's was scheduled at 9 a.m., with His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, presiding. He was to confer Holy Orders on a class of 27 young men.

Sunday's sermon at St. Mary's will be preached by another Kingstonian, the Rev. Robert D. Saccoman now stationed in The Bronx at St. Martin of Tours Church.

Revenue Is Up, Smoking Down

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New Yorkers may be smoking less, but the state treasury is enjoying it more.

The state tax on cigarettes jumped from 5 to 10 cents a package April 1. In April, the sale of tax stamps—an indication of retail sales—dropped 18.1 per cent, but revenues from the increased tax soared to a record $17,835,105.

"We expected a certain amount of sales dropoff throughout the state when the new tax rate went into effect," State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy said Friday. "But it is our belief that the situation will return to normal within two or three months."

The tax increase was part of the fiscal program Gov. Rockefeller presented to the current Legislature.

Rockefeller had predicted that the New York increase would bring an additional $110 million into the state coffers in one year.

The revenue during April was more than $7.3 million higher than the cigarette tax collected during April 1964. The previous one-month record was set in May 1963 when $11.6 million was collected.

Murphy said 178.3 million tax stamps—one stamp is required on each package of cigarettes—was sold to wholesalers during April. During the corresponding period last year 217.7 million stamps were sold.

The increase enacted in March was the biggest made in the tax since it was initiated in 1939. In that year, the state began levying a two-cent a pack tax. It was increased to three cents in 1948. In 1959, it was boosted to five cents.

Hold Little Hope For Survivors in India Mine Blast

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A government spokesman said today there is little hope of anyone escaping alive from the shattered Bhori coal mine in eastern India where an explosion killed an estimated 250 to 400 men.

Mine officials sealed some air intakes in an effort to stifle the flames that erupted after the blast had ripped through three levels of the mine before dawn Friday.

Flames and gases drove rescue teams back to the surface. With many exits covered by fire fighters, any survivors have little chance of escaping, a government spokesman said.

The official acknowledged he was "taking the low figure" in estimating that 250 men were dead. Labor union leaders put it at 400.

The blast came at shift changing time and officials could not say exactly how many men from the old shift had left the mine or how many of the relief had entered.

Teams wearing gas masks entered the mine about 12 hours after the explosion, the labor Ministry reported.

The rescuers pushed into three levels hit by the blast 150 to 200 feet below the surface but they withdrew when the flames broke out.

If a government is correct in its estimate that at least 250 men are dead, the Bhori colliery explosion would be he worst mine disaster in India's history.

Sherlock Solves Bridge Mystery

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners

"My dear Watson," remarked Sherlock Holmes, "Here is a little mystery for you. South was Sir Percy Adair one of the best players in England. East was Colonel Sebastian Moran the second most dangerous man in London and the most dangerous one at the card table. The scene was the finals of the Diogenes Club championship and when the Colonel fooled Percy and held him to five hearts he received a top score and won the event. How did he fool Sir Percy?"

Watson studied the hand carefully and replied. "This time I have you, Holmes! The Collonel won the club opening and returned the six of trumps. Sir Percy decided that the Colonel was too good a player to lead away from a king and rose with the ace in the hope of finding West with a singleton king."

"Wrong as usual!" snapped Holmes. "Sir Percy would know that Moran was fully capable of leading from a king.

"You are right in one respect," said Holmes. "The swindle was executed at trick two, but it was a far more delicate one than the obvious trump lead. Sir Percy would never fall for anything like that."

Watson. "Even a poor player like myself would finesse trumps and spades and make 12 tricks. What did happen?"

If you readers have not solved the mystery as yet the answer is that the wily Colonel led the five of spades at trick two. West played the ten and Sir Percy decided that the spade lead had to be a singleton. Therefore, Sir Percy refused to take the trump finesse. He feared losing to the king in the West hand and then running into a ruff.

MEMORIAL DAY

And still they come—fresh names to be added to the long, long roll of those who have fallen in the service of their country.

We had thought, 20 years ago, to have made an end to it once and for all, even as 25 years before that men told themselves they had fought the war to end all wars.

But more names were still to come.

The peace so dearly bought in 1945 was but a pause. A mere five years later and there were different battlefields and a different enemy. But the face of death was the same one known to those who had met him at Lexington, at Lundy's Lane, at Vera Cruz, Antietam and San Jan Hill, in Flanders and in Normandy.

We had thought, after Korea, to have made an end to it. The men of the West who had fought and died and held the line there had proved to those of the East that there was no more profit to be gained in nibbling at freedom's edge with "limited" war than in uncapping the nuclear holocaust that would destroy us all.

But more names were still to come, for never-sleeping tyranny has many fields to prowl.

They began coming in from new battlefields with faraway names—Bien Ho, Da Nang. They come slowly still, but there are more names today than yesterday, and little hope for anything but more tomorrow than today.

Now, most recently, the names came from a battle place closer to home—the sun-and blood-drenched isle of Hispianola. A handful only, thankfully, but the long roll is that much longer.

Today we suspend the public business to honor all the names, those lost to history as well as those still painfully fresh in memory. As Walt Mason wrote:

The little green tents where the soldiers sleep
And the sunbeams play and the women weep
Are covered with flowers today.

And in the ghostly distance, the long, long file of those who have given us the peace and liberty that makes possible this day of Memorial Day goes on and on . . . and on.

LOCAL BURGLARIES

The increased number of burglaries in Kingston and the surrounding area calls for greater precaution upon the part of the local business community and home owners.

Despite the large number of arrests and convictions, burglaries continue and we seem incapable of stopping them. Police agencies cannot be everywhere in the city and town and unless they get a lot more help from the public than they are getting now, burglaries will continue at a high rate.

It has been proven that criminals are alarmed and unnerved by sudden, loud noises and big bursts of bright light. Stores should use some such device.

We are rapidly getting into the season when we lock up the house and head for far places. Which brings to mind the usual precautionary thoughts for home owners, to be summed up under this heading: Don't leave your place looking as though you were gone.

One thinks of certain things immediately. Arrangements must be made to have the grass cut, lest heavy growth make a place stand out on a block of neatly trimmed lawns. Deliveries must be halted and lamps kept burning during the evening hours. The latter can be done by using an automatic timer on lamps or through the cooperation of a neighbor. The best safety locks and latches available should be used. There is no burglar-proof lock, but it takes longer to force a good lock, which could act as a deterrent.

The Police Department also should be notified when you are leaving.

Other precautions will occur to anyone who thinks about it. Acting on these thoughts can mean the difference between a pleasant homecoming and a glum end to vacation.

Global View

PARIS (NEA)—I came to France to ask: "What does President De Gaulle want?"

I put the question to one of France's top military experts who knows Charles de Gaulle intimately.

"I doubt whether De Gaulle himself knows," the general replied. "He has illusions about restoring France's old glory. He is consistent in his dislike of America. But he seems to have lost all touch with political reality."

The officer added: "President Johnson and the United States are our last hope not only in Europe but also in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia."

There is little doubt that if elections were held in France today De Gaulle could win another term as president. Ordinary Frenchmen love nothing better than to be reminded of their country's past glory, and De Gaulle has been feeding them strong doses of nationalism since he came to power in 1958. France also has benefited, despite the threat of inflation, from West Europe's economic recovery sparked by massive American aid after World War II.

Rabid nationalism and economic prosperity are a political combination that is not easy to beat.

Because he obviously aims to weaken NATO by forcing the United States out of Europe, De Gaulle has also gained the backing — or benevolent neutrality — of the French Reds and their Russian masters.

Nevertheless, there are increasing signs that De Gaulle's popularity has reached its climax and is already on the decline. Anything is thus liable to happen between now and December when the French presidential elections are scheduled to be held.

There are even wishful thinkers in Paris who hope against hope that the 74-year-old president is too ill to run for re-election.

However, it is not domestic politics but De Gaulle's erratic foreign policies that have brought about the decline in his prestige. Even his strongest backers are increasingly worried by France's isolation in the ranks of NATO.

"He will never gain the support of the Russians and their East European satellites but he has already lost the confidence of France's traditional Western allies," said a prominent French political commentator.

It is a measure of De Gaulle's isolation that on the 20th anniversary of Hitler's defeat the only message of congratulations he received was from Walter Ulbricht, Russia's East German puppet and the most despised man even behind the Iron Curtain.

On the other hand, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson, in an obvious dig at De Gaulle's odd-man-out nationalism, warned at the NATO meeting in London that "there is no greater delusion than the feeling" that the West "can solve common problems on the basis of adventures in nationalism."

Wilson was backed by Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, honorary president of the NATO Council of Ministers, who said:

"Whatever makes nations retire within themselves out of a somewhat old-fashioned pride is out of date and will ultimately prove illusory."

In 1963, France and West Germany signed a treaty of co-operation that was to have been the cornerstone of De Gaulle's "European" policy. But his flirtation with Russia and his efforts to prevent even token progress toward European political union has just wiped out the pro-De Gaulle faction in West German politics.

The meeting between De Gaulle and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard scheduled for Bonn on June 11 is thus likely to result in an open diplomatic conflict between France and Germany.

No wonder Bonn's leaders and the West German press were elated by the State Department's assurance to NATO that the United States will refuse to abandon responsibility for German reunification to France and Russia.

In the view of NATO diplomats, U.S. prestige in Europe is today higher than it has ever been since the Korean war. President Johnson is increasingly regarded by Europeans as a determined and realistic Western leader.

Bad Habits Complicate Teeth Straightening Efforts

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As if natural causes of malocclusion of teeth and malformation of jaws weren't enough, parents and orthodontists are plagued with teeth straightening problems that are directly due to abnormal habits.

Parents are understandably bitter because the cost of teeth straightening is often the last straw in the overwhelming cost of bringing up children, even though it's money well spent. When wires, bands and elastics are finally removed, the cosmetic and functional effects are miraculous.

Orthodontists are bothered because the good work they accomplish is often nullified by persistent and maddening habits. Dr. G., an orthodontist, puts it this way, "You name it and those kids do it! Leaning habits: resting chin on fist. Sleeping habits: resting fist under chin. Sucking habits: thumbs, fingers, feet and elbows. Tongue habits: forward thrust, side thrusts, and bizarre swallowing pressures. Lip habits: pressing lips against teeth, biting lower lip, biting upper lip, biting both lips. Chewing knick-knacks habit: biting pencils, pens, pins and paper clips."

That these habits are a significant cause of malocclusion and facial deformity is an accepted fact. Gentle, mild habits are of little consequence. But those accompanied by pressure cause all the trouble. The extent of facial distortions seems to be directly related to how vigorously a habit is practiced.

Dr. G. went on, ". . . did you ever see a thumb that has been constantly bitten, chewed, champed, chafed, clamped and sucked? It looks as though it was caught in a meat grinder. When you see a thumb like that, you can imagine what happens to teeth and soft, pliable, bony, supporting structures. They just can't resist that kind of pressure."

If habits are stopped at an early age, orthodontists have an easier time making corrections. Appliances are simpler and normal occlusion can be restored in a shorter period of time. But these habits are difficult to stop. One letter writer asked how she could stop her daughter from thumb sucking. The daughter is 28.

But don't give your little fellow too hard a time if he has any of these bag habits. They are part of our life. You had them, too. Just give him some tender loving care and maybe he'll stop.

DON'T LITTER HIGHWAYS

As the highways become more crowded now that the travel season is getting underway, each of us has a greater responsibility to practice good litter disposal habits. Residue in cars such as beer cans, bottles, garbage, etc. should be retained and disposed of properly for the sake of health, recreation and good manners. This is one way to prevent destruction of natural beauty.

Not all highways throughout the county and nearby areas are posted with warning signals about penalties for scattering litter, but it nevertheless is a violation of the law. It might be well for those who are prone to throw litter along the highways to remember this.

And the End Not Yet

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There are signs the Communists in the Dominican Republic are shifting tactics.

What they're doing now, interpreted in the light of Communist tactics in other countries at other times, seems to suggest they've written off an immediate victory in Santo Domingo.

Instead, their most recent moves indicate they're burrowing under now to build up strength for another day, meanwhile fighting a strong rear - guard action and continuing ready to take advantage of a break.

A relatively small number of Communist activists or cadres moved into this revolt with little popular Red support, a sketchy organization and few cells or units. The foreign Reds, however, helped fire things up and aided in keeping the fight going by making certain that considerable quantities of arms went to the fiery left and to emotional and undisciplined types of university students, teen - age youngsters and street gangs.

As the fighting continued, these Red activist - organizers were able to watch these new revolutionaries in action, determine which of the amateur fighters stood up under stress and combat and who folded. They were able to talk to them as comrades under stressful conditions, find which were ready for communism and which they could force into actions which would irrevocably commit them to the Red underground.

It has been an excellent proving ground for the Reds.

These Communist activists have taken these young men and are beginning to whip the better ones into "squads" and "platoons." They've begun developing sub-commanders, deputies, local activists. They've been able to determine which of the young professional men are potential leaders.

THE SANTO DOMINGO REVOLT has thus given the foreign Communist activists the local material on which to build a permanent underground framework.

This organization will have a fertile field in which to work.

There will be underlying instability for a long time in the Dominican Republic. There is deep hatred of the military, police and government. (There are few families which have not had at least one member assassinated by Trujillo.)

Almost all who advanced under Trujillo and many who merely held their own are hated as Trujilloites by their less fortunate neighbors. In some ways this hatred takes on the attributes of a Hatfield-McCoy feud. Reds revel in hate.

But worst of all there is no basic rural-village-city government structure or any experience with which to combat (with good government) the tactics of a professional Communist underground.

THIS STORY OF A FEW YEARS BACK will illustrate the point:

The Dominican ambassador approached a government official in Washington, asked for 450 Peace Corps volunteers to be sent the next day.

"What kind of Peace Corps volunteers do you want?" he was asked.

The answer came bluntly and sadly: "We don't want advisers or technical personnel. We want intelligent, mature Americans to come to our villages to live with us and counsel and coach us on how to live in a democratic society.

"The peasants have no understanding of how to do things for themselves. They don't know how to perform the simplest government actions. We have neither the administrators nor the institutions."

The situation is reportedly no better today.

Business Week in Review

By PHILIP J. KEUPER
AP Business News Writer

The warning came as Washington was issuing two other broad business statements: one, that Americans still are in a buying mood; and two, that living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in April, the biggest monthly jump since last July.

New High Price Index

Increases in the cost of food, clothing, transportation and medical care boosted the Labor Department's consumer price index to 109.3, a new high.

This meant that in April it cost $10.93 to purchase typical goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period. The increase was the biggest for April since 1960.

However, government officials said the monthly jump in the cost-of-living index did not necessarily indicate an inflationary trend.

"We'll have to see what happens the rest of the year," said one Labor Department official.

Other talk about prices came from Gardner Ackley, President Johnson's top economic aide and chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

"The number of announcements of price increases seems to be accelerating," Ackley told a group of businessmen. "There is just enough movement in prices to be disturbing."

The list in recent weeks, said Ackley, has included tires, trucks, paper containers and various aluminum, copper and stainless steel products.

At the same time, Ackley said, business gains in the rest of 1965 will be only about half as great as in the booming January-March first quarter. Lower automobile output and a slowdown in inventory buying by industry are the major factors, he added.

Over-All Prospects Good

Ackerly suggested that the over-all prospect for price stability may be good because a slowdown in the growth rate would erase the threat of any serious overheating of the economy.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department said an April survey of 16,000 households showed a continued rise in consumer confidence. The survey results: 24.7 per cent of the families sampled said they expected their income to be higher in a year; 22 per cent said they planned to buy new appliances in the next six months; 9.3 per cent planned to buy new cars and 5.3 per cent planned to buy homes in the next 12 months.

The survey was taken before the Johnson administration unwrapped its proposal to cut $4 billion in excise taxes on hundreds of products and services — a move aimed at further stimulating buying.

Other Soundings Favorable

Other soundings of the economy generally were favorable.

Steel production edged up during the week after three straight weekly declines. Automobile sales set a mid-May record for the industry.

Car dealers delivered 275,854 automobiles from May 11-20, compared with 257,320 the year before. The industry's daily rate of sales trailed last month's daily rate, however. Dealers sold a daily average of 30,650 cars in mid-May, compared with 31,859 in mid-April.

Automobile production during the week was estimated at 204,675 cars, compared with 161,360 a year ago and 209,615 a week ago.

The nation's steel mills poured 2.7 million tons of raw steel in the week ended last Saturday, a 1.5 per cent gain over the previous week. Output also was 8 per cent higher than the 2.5 million tons poured in the corresponding week last year.

Debt Will Climb

The national debt, currently $316.3 billion, will climb to $325.9 billion by next March 15, Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler estimated. He made the forecast in asking Congress to raise the legal debt limit to $329 billion from the existing $324 billion.

At the same time, lawmakers were told the budget deficit for fiscal 1966 would be $4.3 billion, $1 billion less than projected at the start of the year — even allowing for a bigger excise-tax cut than the administration originally had planned.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The warm weather suddenly came upon us in the first week of May. I remember years ago, the summer trolley would come down Broadway, and all the downtown mercants would come out and wave to the motorman and conductor. Those were the days. Downtown had rows of independent storekeepers. Many owned the buildings in which their stores were and occupied the residence above it. I just read recently that Bergdof-Goodman the famous store in New York City around 55th Street known all over the world in which the owner lives in a penthouse upstairs, and they threw a party for famous theatrical people which was shown in one of the New York City papers. Today, with the modern planning, one is told where to live, where to have a store, as though they know better than the individual who invests the money and has to take his own losses. Perhaps they will guarantee the loss, if the business does not go where they plan to put the businessman. Free enterprise is only in old newspapers so it seems now.

Kingston and of course New York City in years gone by, when the weather was warm, brought out such features as the hurdy-gurdy man and his trained monkey. That too was free enterprise. I think they needed a license in New York. I do not know about Kingston. Suddenly for some unknown reason the powers that be in New York City outlawed this form of private enterprise and pleasure and amusement to young and grown-ups. The man who owned the hurdy-gurdy disappeared, where he went no one konws. No doubt in those days he was able to make a living for his family. He asked little from others. He gave them pleasant music, his little trained monkey, tipped his hat and took the pennies. Why stop it.

From time to time, New York City cannot make up its mind if it will allow the outdoor art shows in Greenwich Village. With one hand, the powers that be write and talk about culture, and with the other hand, they stop its progress, and of course, there again they grab the hand of private enterprise. I think this year, again they had a discussion whether to allow the outdoor art display in Greenwich Village, and then did the artists a favor and let it go through. Who are these people who play so high and mighty, are they on some-kind of payroll where they never have to worry.

Outdoor restaurants also were popular years ago in New York, and little by little the stopped, now I see they are coming back. I cannot see, how anyone should have the power over private enterprise as long as it does not make objectional noise, odor, or otherwise interfere with the peace and comfort of a neighborhood. There are many large plants which bring about loud noises, explosions, sulfur odors and nothing is done.

I remember years ago, when Pop Furman was organizing and running the Boy's Club, he also was able to get the boys to build small bird houses and s ch and they started a stand on a road somewhere. I do not remember the details, but they were stopped, by the powers that be, something about child labor. Why is it allright to destroy property by small fry but not allow them to build with their own creative ability items which can sell and give pleasure. Time and modern progress and ordinances and powers that be should be proud what they have done with the small fry. They have taken away all their creative incentive, not their ability, and have said, "here is a ball, go play!" and added "But do not create a pretty or useful item and try to sell it, that's wrong."

mendations to Congress, 42 of those recommendations have been enacted into law. A review of the records, will show that the HUAC has performed an outstanding service to our country in uncovering the espionage activities of Arthur A. Adams, J. Peters, Gerhardt Eisler, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, Harry Dexter White, William W. Remington, Alger Hiss, espionage activities at the University of California Radiation Laboratory in connection with the atom bomb and many others.

The Rochester Club also takes issue with Congressman Resnick on a statement made in a press release on the subject of HUAC, "that even before his election to Congress he had felt that HUAC 'was one of the worst institutions in the U. S. Congress'" and that "it had been voted against by distinguished members of Congress, including President Johnson, Speaker John McCormick and Representative Emanuel Cellar."

In checking the record, Terwilliger and Mrs. Morgan report, it is revealed that on May 17, 1946, the then Congressman Lyndon Johnson voted against funds for the committee, but on March 9, 1948, Mr. Johnson voted in favor of funds for HUAC, and as speaker of the House, "John McCormack does not vote except to break a tie. However, on March 1, 1961, he voted for funds for HUAC."

The letter charges Congressman Resnick as stating he "originally voted against the appropriation to continue the Committee because you were opposed to its methods and tactics and that these same objections apply, regardless of who is being investigated."

In conclusion the Rochester committee states that while the Supreme court had upset a number of HUAC convictions on technicalities, "it has repeatedly sustained the constitutionality of the Committee, its procedures and actions."

The Rochester Republicans state that it is of the utmost importance that the work of this committee continue and they urge that Congressman Resnick reconsider his position.

Wagner Denies

though he was favored because of a huge Democratic registration margin.

It had been suggested by some Democrats that another well-known Democrat might have a better chance than Wagner of beating the popular Lindsay. Their reasoning is that dissident reform, independent and regular Democrats would close ranks behind another candidate rather than support Lindsay.

Should Wagner pull out of the mayoral race, the man considered most likely to replace him as a candidate is Paul R. Screvane, City Council president.

It had been virtually taken for granted that Wagner would run since last Feb. 1 when he said in an interview that he "most likely" would seek a fourth term.

Wife Died in 1964

Wagner, who recently was pronounced fit and healthy by his doctors, said he felt that he must be a father and a mother to his sons since the death of his wife.

Opposed to Junta Rule

Reports from Washington said the United States has also sent more than $4 million worth of food to the Dominican Republic since the revolt broke out April 24, bringing the amount of U.S. aid to more than $10 million.

A U.N. fact finding team, which made a tour of the northern Dominican Republic, said Friday it found people there overwhelmingly opposed to Imbert's military-civilian junta.

A U.N. spokesman said Dominicans had told them that the army and police were oppressive and that 5,000 to 6,000 persons had been jailed since the revolt began.

The mission said it heard repeated demands for a return to constitutional government and withdrawal of U.S. forces.

MUST MOTHER SECOND DAUGHTER'S INVITATION?

Q: We have a cottage at the seashore and my daughter would like to invite a young man she met several years ago to come and spend the weekend with us. Is it necessary, as my daughter seems to think, for me to write and invite him so that he will know he is welcome, or is an invitation from my daughter sufficient?

A: Your daughter's invitation is sufficient. If it were the other way around and your son was inviting a young woman to come and spend the weekend at your house, a note from you seconding the invitation would be necessary.

Print Dress for Mother Of the Bride

Q: Will you please tell me if it is good taste for the mother of the bride to wear a print dress, or must she wear a solid color? I have never seen the mothers in anything but a solid color and wonder if perhaps it was not proper.

A: At a summer country wedding, a print dress would be quite all right, but for a city wedding, a solid color is in best taste.

Without A Personal Invitation

Q: My boy friend has asked me to go with him and his family to dinner at the home of relatives of theirs. I have never met these relatives but my boy friend assures me that I will be very welcome. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to go on his say so.

A: It would be improper as well as belittling to yourself to be brought by a boy to a dinner to which you were not invited personally by the hostess.

Secretarial Group Attends Division Meeting; Local Chapter Wins Awards

Members of Kingston - Poughkeepsie Chapter of The National Secretaries Association attended the recent 13th annual meeting of the New York State Division at the Hotel Statler Hilton in Buffalo. Attending were: Miss Lillian M. Styles, president and delegate from the local chapter; Mrs. Elsie Secor as the alternate delegate; Mrs. Bea Edwards and Mrs. Gloria Starling.

In addition to the business sessions, educational workshops were featured in line with NSA aims to provide additional and more complete knowledge to the professional secretary. The first such session, held on Friday, was a leadership clinic and the second a study in communications, "Language Is More Than Words," by Dr. Henry Lee Smith Jr., PH.D. Professor of Linguistics and English; Chairman of the Department of Anthropology and Linguistics at the State University of New York at Buffalo. In his session, Dr. Smith investigated languages, paralanguages and kinesics.

On Friday evening, the local group toured the Seagram Tower at Niagara Falls, Canada.

Saturday's educational period featured a discussion of "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" by Rob Roy Macleod, Commercial Vice President of the Niagara Power Corportion. In his discussion, Mr. Macleod reviewed the changes which have occurred, highlighting the technical accomplishments, and their effects on our daily life as well as what the future effects might be.

Miss Agnes Mullarky of the New York Telephone Company was featured in the afternoon session. Her presentation, "Talking Through Your Hat," highlighted the development of the telephone from 1876 to the present and predicted the communications of the future. She associated the company's instruments with brief historical facts and displayed hats which women wore during the era under discussion.

The Saturday evening session featured a "Shore Leave" banquet during which the newly elected division officers were installed and awards presented.

Local attendees were delighted when, on behalf of the Kingston-Poughkeepsie Chapter, Miss Styles, president, was called to the podium to accept an International Membership Award merited because the local chapter's membership had increased more than 15 per cent during the first quarter of the business season. Miss Styles was called the second time to accept a New York State Division award in recognition of the outstanding achievements of the local unit. This award — a golden record — was presented to those chapters which had accomplished over 20 of the 30 objectives set by the Division.

The Sunday presentation was led by Sister M. Georgia, retired Academic Dean of Rosary Hill College. During her discussion, "Change Is a Challenge," she debated the problems of the barriers of race, creed, color and nationality and the reasons for transcending in order to have peace in a better world. She outlined action she believed necessary in the fight against poverty, and the roles individuals could play. She appealed to the audience to work together on tomorrow's world.

The awards merited by the local chapter will be officially entered into the records at the June meeting which will be held at The Hedges and during which the newly elected officers will be installed.

You may want to try some of the butter-type cake recipes using sour cream because the cream usually adds a rich, moist quality.

Appears Castro Threat Collapses In Latin America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

LIMA, Peru (AP) — As of now, any Communist-Castroist threat to capitalize on the Dominican Republic crisis seems to have collapsed in Latin America like a punctured balloon.

Danger that extremists still will try remains, but there is no indication they are ready to take full advantage of what ordinarily would be an attractive opportunity for them.

Stems From Split

Their confusion seems to stem from the split in the world Communist movement, with its incessant warfare beween pro-Chinese and pro-Moscow elements. In this country, as in others in Latin America, the two wings are industriously beating one another over the head with words.

The danger stems from a likelihood that the Dominican crisis will impel the two Communist wings to complete in taking advantage of it.

The failure of the extreme left to spark widespread violence in the wake of the Dominican situation leads the experienced observer in Latin America to suspect that what happened in Santo Dimingo on April 24, when "constitutionalist" officers staged their revolt, was as much a surprise to Communists in this area as to any one else.

There have been reports in Santo Domingo and elsewhere that the revolt was part of a carefully considered plot, and these persist, on the assumption that the Communists are lying low waiting for the next phase of a long-range plan. But in the present state of Castrosim and the world communism movement's confusion, it seems difficult to credit anything so Machiavellian.

Attempts in other countries to spark violence in response to the Dominican events seemed uncoordinated, improvised and poorly executed. The extremist elements appeared to have been unready for this crisis.

Even in the universities, ordinarily hotbeds of Castro-Communist agitation, extremists seem to be starting to lose some of their punch.

These days something new appears to be developing in the universities. Many students now are truly students, anxious to catch up with the 20th century, spurred by their countries' future prospects.

The superabundance of students in law and humanities, preparing for careers of politics, is beginning to decline.

Prospects are that this downward trend will develop and have a profound impact on Latin-American politics. It can produce resistance to interminable student turmoil among young men with no place to go except into politics and no way to get to the top save through demagoguery.

Here in Peru, the public attitude toward the Dominican crisis has developed from an initial sort of shocked surprise at the U.S. action to something closely approaching apathy, despite public denunciations of Washington emanating daily from Peruvian leaders.

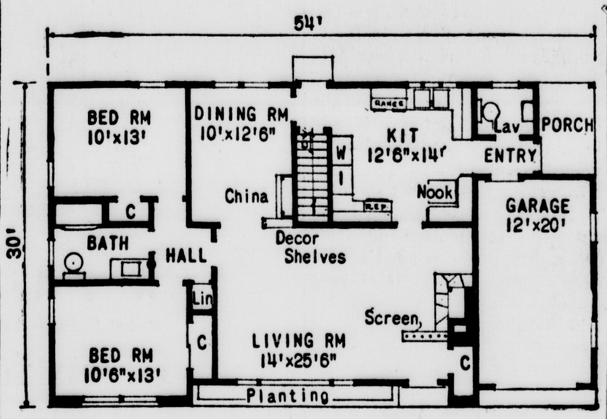

The politicians evidently consider denouncing Washington a political necessity. But even these outbursts are tapering off, and the U.S. side of the story gradually is making its way into the press.

A leftist magazine, for instance, polled public opinion — what it called a true cross section — and came up with results which surprised the magazine's editors themselves, who conceded? "The revulsion has not been to the extent we thought."

Of those polled, more than 25 per cent thought the U.S. action in Santo Domingo justified, a third would say only that it might have been hasty and only a third would say outright it was wrong. The remaining few had no opinion.

Oversize Living Room Is Featured in Ranch Home

By JACK McELENEY

There's an extra large living room in the newest house plan offered by Associated Architects. It measures 14 by 25½ feet, and it's all living room, bare washstand, it is set in a wide table.

The house has other features that emphasize its beauty and add to usefulness. There is a built-in china cabinet along one wall of the dining room. A separate lavette off the kitchen and just behind the garage is handy for cleaning up after a day's work. The garage, you'll notice, is literally built into the house itself instead of being a separate structure, thus saving the cost of a wall.

Both front and rear entrances are sheltered; the roof overhangs both front door and living room for screening from the sun, while a covered porch protects the back door. The floor plan shows how a driver may park the car and walk directly into the house. The kitchen has its own dining nook for informal meals.

Architect-designed blueprints for this attractive home are inexpensive, and may be obtained by filling in the accompanying coupon. They may be used for obtaining firm estimates for construction as well as the actual building.

Area Builders Hear About Fuels For Home Heating

A discussion of the merits of competing home heating fuels and the awarding of a plaque to Louis Ritter, Beacon insurance executive, were the highlights of the May meeting of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley held at the Holiday Inn, Newburgh.

Ritter was designated by the directors of the association as the outstanding associate member. He was awarded a plaque in recognition of the honor by Anthony Gallo, a director of the Home Builders. Ritter has been particularly active in the membership activities. He is the current membership chairman. Membership in the Hudson Valley Home Builders Group is at an all time high.

Participants in the panel discussion on home heating fuels were Martin Burston of the National Oil Fuel Institute and Roger W. Mabie, of Port Ewen, representing Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. Burston detailed the competative nature of the home heating market on Long Island, gave details on some of the methods used to corral the market and cited the advantages to the home owner using fuel oil. Mabie spoke on the advantages of both natural gas and electricity as fuel sources for home heating. Mabie pointed out the wide acceptance of the use of natural gas in the new home market and outlined the rapid strides being made by electricity as a source of home heating.

John E. Jakuba, Hopewell Junction, chairman of the Association's Golf and Clambake Committee, announced that the annual affair would be held in mid-August at an area country club. Michael Guttman, chairman of the Association's Committee, reported on the progress of legislation effecting home builders in the current State Legislature.

New Device Tested

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A new space navigation device, carried on the rear portion of an X15, got an in-flight test when Air Force Capt. Joe Engle took the rocket plane to 210,000 feet.

In the course of Friday's flight, Engle reached 3,682 miles an hour — five times the speed of sound.

The new device, designed to provide a more accurate reference point for guiding orbital flight, utilizes several wavelengths in scanning the horizon. The horizon thus is defined more sharply than wih instruments which use only the visible-light wavelength.

Dear Abby . . .

It's Not So, Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 49, but I am far from "old," if you know what I mean. A very prominent, well-to-do professional man (he is a widower) has asked to marry me. I've been a widow for six years. Melvin is very affectionate and full of fun, and he seems young at heart, but you never know. Please don't think I am silly, but a friend of mine, who was widowed twice and stung three times with older men, told me that men who lose their hair early in life do not have much "drive" romantically. (I hope you get what I am trying to put across.) I've known Melvn practically all my life. (His wife and I were good friends.) Melvin started to go bald in his late 20's and this worries me. I don't know what to believe. Is there any truth in what my friend says? Sign me . . .

YPSILANTI

DEAR YPSI: Absolutely not! Just because there's chrome on the dome doesn't mean there's no power under the hood. Tell your widow friend to get her oars out of your water.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five. Last week my ever-lovin' husband went downtown all by himself and traded in a perfectly good two-year-old, five-passenger sedan for a little two-seater sports car. What would you say he had in mind?

MAD

DEAR MAD: Himself.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: It is always nice to be remembered with a gift on Mother's Day—even an inexpensive one, because it's the thought behind it that counts. When a gift is brought in the line of duty, it is meaningless. My sons married and live a short distance from me. I have never been a butting-in mother-in-law, but my sons' wives never cared much for me. I've never gone to their homes without an invitation, and those invitations were very rare. But the wives' families were always in and out. I wasn't missed My sons slowly turned away from me. On Mother's Day I always get expensive gifts with beautiful cards with verses saying what a wonderful mother I am and how much they love me! It is like rubbing salt in the wound. One son hasn't been in my home for three years, but every Mother's Day he sends an extravagant gift. I hope you'll find space in your column to let young daughters-in-law know that all their husbands' mothers want from them is to love their sons and to take good care of their families. And if they showed a little respect for an aging mother-in-law who might not be around too many more years, they wouldn't regret it. Thank you.

William Wilson New Commander For Legion Post

Other officers are:

Stephen Bodnar, first vice commander; Lawrence Deede, second vice commander; Eugene Marynowski, re-elected third vice commander; William Steuding, adjutant.

John Grote, re-elected finance officer; Alan Styles, re-elected welfare officer; George Rowland, re-elected sergeant-at-arms; Benjamin Buley, trustee.

The new officers will be installed at the June 30 meeting. Meanwhile, a barbecue for Legion members and their families will be held today between 2 and 5 p. m. at the post.

Record Parade

Lawrence Deede, parade marshal for the annual Memorial Day parade, says this year's line of march will be the biggest in the history of the post.

The parade will assemble at Orchard Lane as near 11:30 a. m. as possible, Deede announced. It will proceed to Woodstock cemetery for the grave side service and then return to the Village Green where services will be conducted at the war memorial.

The order of march as announced by Deede follows:

Grand Marshal (Deede); American Legion colors, American Legion firing squad, Saugerties Drum Corps, American Legion membership, American Legion Auxiliary, Gold Star Mothers (Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. John Peacock, Mrs. William Pierpont Sr., Mrs. William J. Vogel).

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Simpkins follow is an open convertible. Louis A. Lewis is next in his vintage Renault, followed by the remainder of the parade: Boy and Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies, fraternal organizations, Jaycees, Catskill Drum Corps, firemen and fire equipment and other mobile units.

Mari Galleries Opening Today

The Mari Galleries of Woodstock opened its 1965 season today with an exhibition of works arranged in representative groups of invited artists and sculptors.

The show which continues through June 18 will include the works of such outstanding artists and sculptors as Robert Angeloch, William Gambini, Rosemarie Beck, Si Lewen, Karl Fortess, Maurice Golubov, Benny Andrews, Reginald Wilson, Joseph Meert, Ariadne Liebau, Clara Klinghoffer, Su Duble, Ruth Vodicka, Rhys Carparn, Dorothy Dehner, Blanch Phillips, Richard Crist, Yona Beattie and Betty Eseman.

This opening show marks the return of artist William Gambini to the study of the figure, after 12 years of painting in the abstract. He will be represented in the show by a series of oil studies based on Dante's Inferno.

The galleries, located at 120 Tinker Street, will be open daily from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m., or by appointment.

Textbooks Topic At Onteora Board

The question of alleged outdated textbooks was aired by the Onteora Board of Education at its May meeting.

Trustee Richard O. Langham of Woodstock posed the question of why some out-date history books are being used in the district. He held the responsibility for the choice of textbooks rested with the Board of Education.

This responsibility, said Langham, could not be delegated to the administrators. He charged that Social Studies books for the 7th grade were dated 1942 and 1947, with 57 references prior to 1940.

Langham said he felt strongly that in view of the amount being spent by the district on textbooks, here was no good reason why children should be taught out of textbooks of this age. He said the board should make it clear that "we are interested that out-dated textbooks be replaced."

No Budge Slash

Mrs. Caroline Hanks, president-elect of the Woodstock P-TA, asked if appropriations for new books was among the $168,000 item slashed from the original 1965-66 school budget. Board president Philip Gordon replied in the negative. He also said he would check with the Social Studies department to see if the textbooks should be changed.

This prompted Trustee Lloyd Collins to remark that one textbook alone should not be singled out.

In other business:

Trustee Herbert Epstein commended the Music Department on their recent competition performance in receiving the highest rating, A-6, for the eighth consecutive year.

Trustee Langham commended the Art Department on the fine exhibition at the Woodstock Guild.

President Gordon commended Superintendent Sullivan and Robert Maorney, Phoenicia principal, for the excellent job in the application for NDEA funds.

Superintendent Sullivan announced that Miss Jennifer Baswick, graduate of the Class of 1961, now attending Vassar College, has been awarded a fellowship by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation for further study in the humanities and social sciences.

Bernard Carpinelli, secondary, and Charles Britting, guidance, were granted tenure appointments, effective Sept. 1, 1965.

Ralph Breakwell was appointed Assistant to the Superintendent for Business at a salary of $11,000 commencing July 1, 1965.

The board accepted low bids on audio visual equipment.

Mrs. Frances Shultis was appointed as printer for the school year at a pro-rated salary of $2,073. Trustee Langham was critical of the way facilities are being used. He said he saw bills coming in for things that could be done with local equipment that is not being used. He said elaborate equipment was not being used.

To Review Policy

Superintendent Sullivan announced that standardization of equipment and annual bidding procedures will be reviewed at the organization meeting in July. He also stated that a report concerning the audio visual department will be forthcoming in the near future.

The resignation of Mrs. Mara Svuksts Hotaling, physical education teacher, was accepted. Edward Eichelt was approved as a bus driver for Robert Wilkins during the remainder of the school year.

Review Piano Bids

The board reviewed original specifications on piano bids that had been rejected and prepared new bids on the basis of the review. The bids will be opened on June 8, with action to be taken on the results at the June 21 meeting.

Land Given for School Site; Public Meeting Set Tuesday

NEW PALTZ—Irving J. Kauder has offered to donate two acres of land to the New Paltz School Board to go with the 54 acres the board is considering buying for a site for a new high school.

In addition, Mr. Kauder has agreed to swap approximately eight acres of the original 54 the board has an option on for eight acres of more usable land. The original eight acres, which lie in the triangle formed by Springtown Road and Mountain Rest Road which has been known to flood. This land will be replaced by eight acres of flat, high ground at the north end of the plot.

The two acres Kauder is donating are on the east side of Springtown Road and will give the school district access to river frontage and will adjoin village land. Kauder believes that, at some future time it might be advatagious for the school site to adjoin the village in case the school ever decides to seek annexation to the village.

The Kauder site is one of two sites the people will have a chance to choose at the bond issue vote for a new high school to be held June 10. The Kauder site lies west and north of Bishop's Greenhouse with frontage on Mountain Rest Road and Springtown Road.

The other site is the Jenkins site on DuBois Road The school board has marked both sites with large signs.

Residents of the New Paltz Central School District are invited to attend a public meeting of the school board Tuesday, June 1, for the express purpose of hearing an explanation of the forthcoming bond issue vote and the vote on the choice of sites. The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium at 9 p. m. Questions from the audience will be welcome.

The school board urges citizens to come to the meeting and learn all they can about the proposed new high school. The bond issue vote and the site vote on the new high school will be on Thursday, June 10, from 2 to 9 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Memorial Day Parade Plans Listed by Legion

The American Legion, sponsor of the Memorial Day Parade in New Paltz this year, has announced that the parade will start promptly at 10 a. m. Monday, May 31 on North Manheim Boulevard.

Frederick Appleton, superintendent of the Highland Training School for Boys, will be the speaker at the ceremony to be held at the Municipal Building following the parade. Post Commander, Ralph Clearwater will introduce Mr. Appleton. The Rev. Roy A. Hassell will deliver the invocation.

The line of march of the parade will be down Main Street to North Front Street, North Front to Church Street, Church to Broadhead, Broadhead to North Chestnut Street to Main, up Main to Plattekill Avenue and the Municipal Building.

Commander Clearwater will be the bugler.

The concert started off with selections from the intermediate band. This was followed by the Concert band, which featured a trombone quartet as one of the selections.

LONDON (AP) — Richard Dimbleby, Britain leading television news personality, let loose an ad lib Thursday night when he thought he was off the air. The British Broadcasting Corp. apologized.

"Jesus wept," said Dimbleby when a program of Queen Elizabeth's day in Germany suddenly vanished from the screen because of technical difficulties.

39 Are Rescued

LONDON (AP)—A shore lifeboat rescued the crew of 39 from the Liberian freighter La Salle Friday after the ship went on the rocks off Guernsey, in the Channel Islands.

The Coast Guard said there were no casualties in the rescue operation despite a rough sea and poor visibility.

Herdegen Memorial Golf Opener at Ellenville on June 19

Saugerties Wins DCSL Title as Beacon Tops Arlington

36-Player Field Will Compete in 15th Tournament

By CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

The 1965 Herdegen Memorial golf tournament, symbolic of the Ulster county amateur championship, opens Saturday, June 19, at Shawangunk Country Club in Ellenville.

The traditional 72-hole medal format is retained, with 36 qualifiers to be chosen in club qualifying competition.

Under the quota system Wiltwyck Country Club is alloted 16 places, Woodstock Country Club and Twaalfskill Club 6 each and Shawangunk two. There are six at large berths.

The starting field will be reduced to 18 low scorers and ties at the end of 36 holes. All club champions and former Herdegen winners are automatically qualified.

Rick Barthel, State University College's (New Paltz) No. 1 player is the defending champion. He won the 1964 tournament with a 72-hole score of 282, two over par for the four county layouts. His winning score included a record tying "63" at Woodstock Country Club.

William (Buzzy) Costello, the Wiltwyck and Rider College star, will be in the field if he fails to qualify in the U.S. Open sectionals at Canoe Brook, N. J. on June 8. Costello trailed Barthel by two shots last year in a bid to become the first repeater since Leon Randall turned the trick in 1959-60.

The past champions list also includes Bill Van Aken of Woodstock and Clarence (Dubby) Raichle and Georeg Hughes of Woodstock.

The tournament dates are:
Saturday, June 19, Shawangunk.
Sunday, June 20—Twaalfskill.
Saturday, June 26—Wiltwyck.
Sunday, July 27—Woodstock.

At-large qualifying for six (6) places will be held at Woodstock Country Club on Saturday, June 5, at 3 p. m. The at-large qualifying is for all bonafide Ulster County players with handicaps of 10 or less. A sudden death playoff will be held in case of a tie for sixth place.

The tournament champion receives a trophy in addition to the traditional Herdegen jacket. Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the low 12 scorers.

The local club golf committees are empowered to set up qualifying rounds as they see fit.

Names of all qualifiers must be submitted to Ralph E. Gardner, tournament secretary-treasurer, no later than Wednesday, June 16. Chairmen of local golf committees are responsible for filing club entries.

Kirkwood Has Tourney Lead

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The major casualties in the Speedway Festival Open Golf Tournament, moved this year from the speedway course to longer and trickier Greentree Country Club, do not include old man par or Joe Kirkwood Jr., the leader at the halfway mark with a 139.

Only 15 players including Kirkwood, bettered Greentree's 71-71—142 par for 36 holes, two others matched it. Nobody beat par by more than three strokes, for either 18 or 36 holes, and only three players put together two subpar rounds.

Only Kirkwood could go three under par for the 36 holes Thursday and Friday, and he needed the two days to get that edge with 69-70—139.

Tommy Bolt went three under Thursday with a 68, but he slipped to 73 Friday and was in a nine-way tie for seventh place.

Lionel Hebert got the only 68 Friday. Added to his opening 72, it gave him 140 and a five-way tie for second.

Beside Kirkwood, the only owners of two sub-par rounds were Miller Barber and Dan Sikes, each with a pair of 70s.

Deadlocked with Hebert, Barber and Sikes at 140 were former champion Doug Ford with 69-71 and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez with 71-69.

Robinson's Return Good News to Orioles

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Brooks Robinson one game to get back into shape. Dick Radatz needed six weeks.

Robinson returned to the Baltimore line-up after a 19-day absence as the Orioles divided a doubleheader with the Los Angeles Angels Friday night, losing the first game 3-1 before taking the nightcap 3-0.

Radatz made his third straight appearance as Boston whipped Kansas City 9-3.

The American League's Most Valuable Player last season, Robinson suffered a broken right thumb when hit by a pitch May 8. He played part-time the next day but hadn't appeared in a game since then.

Against the Angels in the opener, he failed to get a hit in three trips to the plate. The rust wore off quickly, however, and he started the second game with a second-inning single.

Then, in the fourth, the ace third baseman doubled across two runs and scored the Orioles' other run on Jerry Adair's single.

Radatz, the AL's Fireman of the Year in 1964, had been having more than a little trouble this season prior to the last three days. Consistently ineffective, the 6-foot-5 veteran saw his earned run average soar to 7.43 two weeks ago.

With 5 1-3 innings of shutout relieving the past three days, though, Radatz has sliced his ERA to 6.19.

Strikes Out Seven

He relieved Jim Lonborg Friday night in the seventh inning with two runs in, two Athletics on base and one out. He got out of the jam and finished the game with one hit allowed and seven batters struck out.

His performance was only one of many outstanding pitching exhibitions in the American League.

George Brunet pitched a two-hitter for Los Angeles in the first-game victory over Baltimore while Steve Barber came back in the nightcap and held the Angels to three hits.

Hank Aguirre pitched a two-hitter as Detroit edged Cleveland 1-0, and Chicago trimmed New York 2-0 behind Joe Horlen's six-hit hurling. Minnesota defeated Washington 4-1 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain canceled the second.

The only Oriole hits off Brunet in the opener were Jack Brandt's first-inning single and Bob Johnson's double in the seventh.

Felix Mantilla supported Lonborg and Radatz with a two-run homer in the third inning and a run-scoring single in the eighth. Lenny Green and Ed Bressoud added homers for the Red Sox.

Terry Bows

Don Wert's eighth-inning homer off Cleveland's Ralph Terry gave Aguirre his fifth victory against two defeats. Terry, 4-3, gave up just five hits.

The White Sox were held hitless by Bill Stafford until the sixth inning. Then, Johnny Romano led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored as Don Buford bounced a single off the glove of first baseman Joe Pepitone.

Tony Oliva drove in three Minnesota runs with a single and a homer. Bob Allison also homered for the Twins. Dave Boswell held the Senators to one hit through 5 2-3 innings until he was forced to leave the game with a blistered finger.

NFA Gains 2-0 Win To Clinch DUSO Tie

Newburgh Free Academy used the good left arm of Mickey Scott to whitewash visiting Middletown, 2-0, yesterday and clinch no worse than a tie for the 1965 DUSO championship.

The decision closed the Goldbacks' regular season with a 6-2 circuit mark. Kingston is at Port Jervis and Poughkeepsie at Middletown next Tuesday. If both schools win, a playoff will be necessary to break the three-way deadlock for the top spot.

Scott allowed only two hits while walking two and fanning nine. The Goldies tallied in the first and second innings off Mike Illobre to cement the win.

Sawyers to Meet Rhinebeck Team Next Tuesday

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Saugerties High reigns as champion of the Central section of the Dutchess County Scholastic league and the Sawyers can thank Beacon for giving a big assist.

The Beaconites scored a tie breaking run in the bottom of the ninth yesterday at the Southern Dutchess diamond to nip Arlington, 5-4, and give the Sawyers undisputed possession of the circuit crown.

If Arlington had decisioned Beacon, a playoff for first place would have been necessary this afternoon. Now, the Sawyers will meet Rhinebeck next Tuesday, 4 p. m., at Riverview field in the semi-finals of the DCSL big-small school playoff. The winner will oppose Pawling on Saturday, June 5 for the title.

Final Central section standings:

Tied After Seven

Yesterday's climatic game was a thriller from start to finish. The teams were embraced in a 2-2 deadlock after the regulation seventh inning.

Arlington tallied twice in the eighth and the home side came back to knot the count with two runs of its own.

In the ninth, relief hurler Mike White fanned Ty Quill but walked Frank Mesnick. Pinch runner Tom Lake went to second on a wild pitch. After White retired another batter, he hit Dave Mason with a pitch.

At this point, coach Fritz Jordan summoned Otto DiStefano from his centerfield position to relieve White. Bob Murphy greeted Otto with a base hit between first and second as the winning run came home.

Coach Pete Kramer of Saugerties was one of the spectators at the game and he couldn't have been happier. His first year of varsity coaching at the school produced a championship.

Rain Halts Action In Tennis Tourney

PARIS (AP) — The French tennis tournament works overtime today — weather permitting — to make up the loss of a full day Friday because of rain.

Weather predictions are for more showers that might wash out the finals of the men's singles and women's doubles, and semi-finals of the women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

Nancy Richey of Dallas meets Margaret Smith of Australia in one of the women's semifinals. Miss Richey, America's No. 1 player, has defeated Miss Smith, a former champion at both Wimbledon and Forrest Hills, in their first three meetings.

Maria Esther Buenos of Brazil meets Lesley Turner of Australia in the other women's semifinal.

Tony Roche faces Fred Stolle in the All-Australian final of the men's singles. Roche upset Roy Emerson of Australia in the semifinals. Now that the 20-year-old Roche, ranked No. 4 in Australia, has taken care of the top-ranked Aussie he will have a chance at the No. 2 player.

Schofield's Homer Leads SF Over Reds

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The next time Dick Schofield's phone rings, it may be that little old landlady with the $700-a-month place to rent giving it another try.

Schofield, who hasn' been able to locate a place to live in San Francisco, continued to remain right at home on the field for the Giants, again playing a key role Friday night in a 12-7 victory over Cincinnati.

Acquired from Pittsburgh in a straight shortstop swap for Jose Pagan, Schofield went shopping for a place to live Thursday, bumped into the landlady and was almost bowled over by the price tag on her living quarters.

Schofield adds to his value every day with the Giants. He has hit safely in all six games for his new mates, building a .364 batting average.

And against the Reds, he led off with his first homer of the season, kept Cincinnati from moving ahead in the fifth inning with a spectacular fielding play and then got a seven-run rally started in the sixth inning by walking and scoring the run that put the Giants ahead to stay.

Mets Lose, 6-1

Elsewhere in the National League, Milwaukee knocked off the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4, Houston edged St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings, Philadelphia downed the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and Pittsburgh made it seven in a row with a 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

Besides Schofield, Jim Hart also homered for the Giants while John Edwards and Tommy Harper connected for the Reds. But the decisive fireworks came as the Giants sent 11 men to the plate in the sixth.

Schofield started it by walking with one out, coming around to break the 4-4 tie on singles by Jesus Alou and Willie McCovey. Hal Lanier stroked a key two-run single during the uprising and Tony Perez let in two runs by fumbling a grounder by winning pitcher Bob Shaw.

The Dodgers built a 4-0 lead against new Milwaukee pitcher Ken Johnson, but the Braves came back with two runs in the fourth and then put it away against Claude Osteen, 3-5, with a three-run fifth.

A walk to Hank Aaron and singles by Joe Torre and Gene Oliver produced one run. Eddie Mathews then walked and Mack Jones stroked a two-run single that put Milwaukee ahead to stay.

Jim Wynn's single and a double by Walt Bond accounted for the Astros' winning run in the 12th as Jim Owens squared his record at 2-2 with three innings of perfect relief pitching.

Cardinals starter Ray Sadecki limited Houston to five hits and had a 2-1 lead until Bob Aspromonte led off the ninth with a homer.

Save for Short

Ray Culp got home run support from Tony Gonzalez and Wes Covington but needed Chris Short's one-out relief help in the ninth inning before subduing the Cubs.

The Pirates moved out of the NL cellar and the Mets moved in when Bill Mazeroski's sacrifice fly and Willie Stargell's three-run homer produced a four-run eighth inning against Warren Spahn. Bob Veale, 5-2, got the victory wth a five hitter.

Wings, Bruins In Multple Deal

BOSTON (AP) — Lowly Boston and first place Detroit head for the National Hockey League draft both eyeing a goaltender and another defenseman after completing a multiple-player deal.

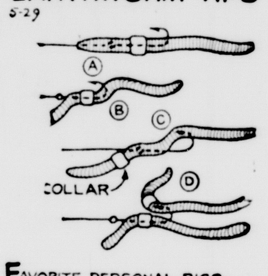

The Bruins, who have the first draft pick because of a last place finish for the fifth straight year, are ready to pounce on Toronto's Vezina trophy winner Terry Sawchuk or Johnny Bower — the one the Leafs leave unprotected.

The Red Wings, first in the regular season but a first round Stanley Cup playoff victim of Chicago, want a second goalie to back up 1964-65 Rookie-of-the-Year Roger Crozier.

With teams weeding out and dealing to clear decks for the June 7-10 NHL meeting and draft in Montreal, Boston got veterans Al Langlois, a defenseman, and right wing Parker MacDonald plus promising youngsters Bob Dillabough and Ron Harris Friday. In return Detroit acquired wing Ab McDonald, defenseman Bob McCord and rookie defenseman Ken Stephenson.

Highland Defeats Pine Bush

It took Greg Cappillino only 72 pitches to retire Pine Bush as Highland won a 7-1 decision from the visitors yesterday.

In clinching second place in the UCAL, the winners broke a 1-1 deadlock with a six-run surge in the fifth.

Joe Bratony's two-run single and run-producing hits by John Henderson and John Kuelemen paced the attack.

Drivers in Final Practices For 49th Indianapolis 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Three hours of carburetion tests Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was the last chance for 33 drivers to handle their cars on the track before the 49th 500-mile race Monday.

In the past, this period has been largely an extra practice, but the tests have a closer meaning this year.

Many crews, particularly those with new Ford engines, have been trying to find a way to send their cars the full 500 miles on the two mandatory pit stops.

Some mechanics have admitted privately that if they use alcohol, three pit stops will be necessary. A possible solution is to use gasoline but that would mean sacrificing horsepower and would also be adding a fire hazard.

Some mechanics apparently hope to use a blend of the two fuels and varying formulas of such was what they tested today.

The carburetion test period meant much to two 500 veterans, Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., and Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Both got in trouble and their cars hit the wall after they had qualified, causing heavy damage to both. Both were expected to be in shape for the last warmup.

No Room for Ward

The apparent readiness of the two cars seemingly dissipated the last chance for veteran Rodger Ward to make the race. A starter in 14 straight 500s, former winner Ward was the first alternate on the basis of his 34th fastest qualifying time.

Ward apparently was resigned to not racing, since it was announced Friday he will do the commentary on a closed-circuit television showing of the speed classic.

With the approach of the race, the city's 500 festival, in progress since May 1, neared its climax — the giant pre-race parade.

The procession of 33 elaborate floats, hundreds of bands and marching units and carloads of television, film and sports celebrities and other notables will wind through downtown Indianapolis at twilight Saturday along a route lined with 37,000 reserved seats in bleachers.

The annual governor's ball was held Friday night.

Regal Rodney Wins Feature At Monticello

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 28—Bill Myer, up from Metropolitan New York for his 1965 Monticello debut, had things pretty much his own way in winning last night's featured third race. On hand to handle Mrs. Ruth Kephart's Regal Rodney, Bill sent the six-year-old to the front just past the eighth pole and was never headed thereafter.

A chronic breaker, Regal Rodney seems to get along very well with Myer at the controls and last night was no exception. At the wire, the Rodney gelding was a length the best of Clayhaven Triton, Homer Harp Driving, and Corn Flower, George Gilmour in the sulky. After winning the $1,750 Invitational Trot in 2:09.3, Regal Rodney returned $10.40, $5.10 and $3.50 across the board.

Last night's 3 and 6 Daily Double paid $105.80 when Son of Eden won the first with John Manzi, Sr. driving and Gunmor took the second for Larry Rolla.

The co-supporting events at the raceway, two invitational tests for pacers, were won by Willie's Adios and Devon Goose.

Willie's Adios, Dave Pickney aboard, took kthe anchor leg of the twin double in 2:05.3 to cap a $7,472.30 twin payoff. Willie's Adios was a length the best of Star Guinea in winning the eighth.

The big crowd of 5,507 also watched Devon Goose take the night cap in 2:05.4. Reined by Vince Kachel, Devon Goose held off the closing surge of Nevele Surprise by three parts of a length.

The twin materialized when the 6-6-5-3 combination set up the hefty payoff. Josie MacDee won the fifth, Frontier Marshall the sixth, and Chief Vic the seventh before Willie Adios' triumph in the eighth.

Total handle for the evening was $376,261.

New Paltz Defeats OCS, 12-11

New Paltz scored seven runs in the fourth inning to offset three-run homers by John Phelan and Mike Gallagher and pin a 12-11 UCAL loss on visiting Onteora yesterday.

The Huguenots trailed, 8-5, starting the big inning but staged their rally to record the decision.

Dennis Rickard won the game in relief, giving up just a three-run homer to Phelan over the last four frames.

No Expulsion

CAIRO (AP)—The 12 other nations of the Arab League shied away from expelling Tunisia from their ranks Thursday. Instead they denounced Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba's statements advocating coexistence between Israel and the Arab states.

The Conference of Arab Government Leaders unanimously adopted a Sudanese resolution denouncing Bourguiba's proposals as "deviation from Arab solidarity and violation of the Arab obligation to liberate the Arab world from "zionist imperialism in Palestine."

Friend — I'll tell you what's the matter, Fred. You don't praise your wife enough. Even if things don't go right, there's no use growling. Praise her efforts to please, whether they are successful or not. Women like praise, and lots of it.

Fred—All right. I'll emember it.

Fred (at dinner, same evening)—My dear, this pie is just lovely! It's delicious. Ever so much better than those my mother used to make. She couldn't equal this pie if she tried a month.

Wife—Huh! You've made fun of every pie I ever made, and now--

Fred—But this is lovely.

Wife—Yes, and it came from the bakery. You never praised my cooking like that.

An American traveling in Europe engaged a courier. Arriving at an inn in Italy the man asked his servant to enter his name in accordance with the police regulations of that country. Some time after, the man asked the servant if he had complied with his orders.

Servant—Yes, sir.

Master—How did you write my name?

Servant—Well, sir, I can't pronounce it, but I copied it from your portmanteau, sir.

Master—Why, my name isn't there. Bring me the book.

The register was brought, and, instead of the plain American name of two syllables, the following entry was revealed:

"Monsieur Warranted Solid Leather."

Of a youthfulness grenally he breathes lively and walks springly, searching his customer loyalty for the firm his. Yet under the breast of the American sellsman beats the heart warmness, therefore let us give greeting smiles with two hands open to him crying 'welcome to Brazil, Mister.'"

Holiday Fare: Good Weather, Lots of Traffic

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Generally clear skies, pleasant temperatures and crowded highways were forecast for New York State during the summer's holiday weekend—Memorial Day.

The Weather Bureau said that, after a threat of showers early today in western and northeastern New York, the three-day weekend should be a pleasant one.

High temperatures are expected to range from the 50s to the low 70s. At night, the mercury is expected to drop as low as the 40s.

The promise of good weather, however, will lure more motorists onto the highways.

Last year on the Memorial Day weekend 25 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the state.

Ask Customers Of Glasco Area: Conserve Water

Customers of Glasco Water District, including residents of Glasco and most of Barclay Heights were officially notified today to refrain from using excessive water until further notice.

The water district will start on major improvements Tuesday which will alleviate the short supply and pressure problem.

The curb on excessive water will continue until the work is completed. No time estimate was given for the job under the supervision of Brinnier and Larios, consulting engineers of Kingston.

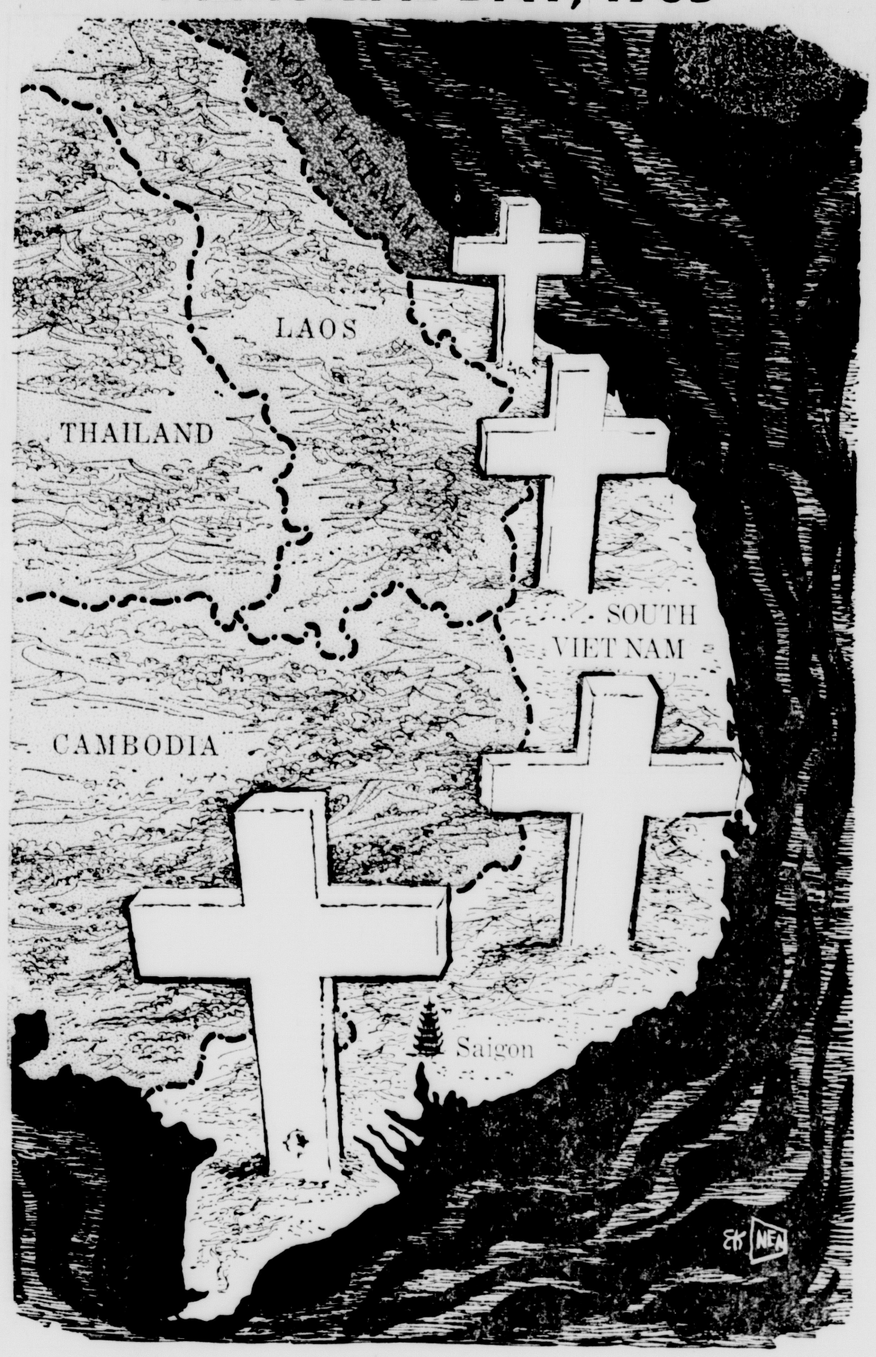

Killed Changing Tire

WEEDSPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Louis W. Zessin, 63, of Dearborn, Mich., was struck and killed by a tractor-trailer truck as he changed a tire on his automobile on the Thruway near this village west of Syracuse.

State Police said Zessin had pulled off the road and was changing the left rear tire when he was struck Friday.

The truck driver, Wendell Crownover, 24, of Spring Church, Pa., was charged with reckless driving and was fined $100.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1965

Jane Wyatt Still Reaps Residuals From TV 'Father'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It has been five years since Jane Wyatt cooked her last meal for the Anderson family, and still the residuals for "Father Knows Best" keep rolling in.

Jane is living testimony of the benefits of having a successful television series. She still gets a regular, sizable check for her six years of service to "Father Knows Best," and this pleasant practice may well continue for years to come.

"I'm now getting paid for the sixth rerun — think of that!" says Jane exuberantly. "After we went off the air, the show ran for three years in prime time, and for two years it has been playing every day on the network. It's also playing all over the world."

For such blessings Jane can naturally look back on the series with great fondness. But upon reflection she had to admit that doing a series for six years is not without its hazards.

"The first year was sheer joy," she recalled. "The second year was when the problems started to set in. But we licked them and the third year was smooth going. Fatigue began to set in during the fourth year. We got through the fifth year only because we all thought it would be the last. The sixth? Pure hell."

The trouble with the show was inherent in its very nature, she explained.

"Being a family show, we all had to stick around," she said. "Even though each story was centered on one of the five members of the family, I always had to be there to deliver such lines as 'Eat your dinner, dear,' or, 'How did you do in school today?' We got along fine, but after the first few years it's really difficult to have to face the same people day after day."

The series finally expired out of sheer exhaustion, said Jane. The three kids were crashing into adulthood, and plots began to have a reminiscent ring. All agreed it was time to quit. The final count: 207 half-hour episodes, about the equal of 75 feature movies.

Jane has now returned to the big screen, playing Maureen O'Sullivan's close friend in "Never Too Late." It's a bit of a wrench, but the technique is coming back to her.

Set Memorial Ceremonies At Rosendale

Memorial Day ceremonies at Rosendale will be conducted Monday, under sponsorship of Rosendale-Tillson Post No. 1219, American Legion, with a parade beginning at 10 a. m. and ceremonies at the Memorial Tablet in the Village of Rosendale.

The parade will form at the Tillson firehouse with the line of march down Station Hill and through Main Street, to the tablet where a memorial program will take place.

Heading the parade will be the Legion Color Guard, the rifle squad followed by members of the Legion Post and Auxiliary members.

The invocation will be by the Rev. Sylvester Van Oort. A wreath will be placed at the tablet. Following prayer by the chaplain of the Ladies' Auxiliary, there will be an address. The benediction will be given by the Rev. John Irwin of St. Peter's Church. A volley by the firing squad and taps will conclude the ceremonies.

In the line of march will be the Color Guard, Rifle squad, Legion members, Auxiliary members, Band, Gold Star Mothers, Clergy, Legion and Auxiliary cars, Town and Village officials, Girl Scouts and Brownies, Bloomington Fire Company, Boy Scouts, Band, Cottekill Fire Company, Binnewater Fire Company, Rosendale Fire Company, High Falls Fire Company, Moylan ambulance.

Bans Cigs on Campus

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The University of Washington announced Friday it will begin enforcing on its campus a state law against the sale of cigarettes to persons under 21.

The University of Washington Daily, which had urged such a policy, commended the administration editorially for "its speedy and decisive action."

The law was passed in 1895.

Actress Estate Going to Adopted Daughter, Friends

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Linda Darnell, who left an estate valued at less than $10,000, named her adopted daughter and close friends as heirs.

The will was filed for probate Friday in Superior Court.

Miss Darnell, 43, was fatally burned in a fire April 10 at Glenview, Ill. Her will asked that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane Curtis, at whose home the fire occurred, become guardians of the actress' daughter, Charlotte Mildred Marley, 17.

Miss Marley, chief beneficiary under the will, is to graduate next month from the Ojai Valley (Calif.) High School. She will make her home with the Curtis family.

The will, dated April 18, 1962 and revised last year, made no mention of airline pilot Merle Roy Robertson, whom she divorced in 1963.

Charlotte was adopted by the actress and her first husband, the late J. Peverell Marley, in 1948.

Flames Checked, Penfield Homes Were Threatened

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—High winds complicated the task of 200 firemen battling to control a brush fire that threatened at least 75 high - priced homes in suburban Penfield Friday.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke.

The fire did not damage any of the homes, which were valued at $30,000 each and up.

Flames swept through a 1½-marsh section along Browncroft Bouleavard. Firemen from nine area companies checked the flames after a three-hour battle.

Some homeowners were seen spreying their rooftops with water from garden hoses.

Chief Leslie Heslor of the Penfield Fire Department said the blaze may have been started by sparks that flew from a trash fire in the area.

Traffic Mishap Increase Is Due To Tailgating

ALBANY—A sharp increase in tailgating accidents was largely responsible for the 10 per cent increase in all traffic accidents in New York State in 1964.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults reported today that the number of tailgating accidents increased by almost 18 per cent in 1964. There was a total of 107,233 reported tailgating accidents—16,179 more than in the previous year. Tailgating crashes account for more than 25 per cent of all the accidents in the state, and more than 30 per cent of all the injury accidents.

"This increase in tailgating crashes is partly attributable to the increased congestion on our streets and highways," Commissioner Hults said. "The accident reports indicate that more than half of these accidents occur at intersections—usually during the rush hours. They are caused primarily by following too closely and driver inattention."

Commissioner Hults predicted that as the highways become more congested, there will probably be additional increases in the number of rear end collisions due to tailgating. "The only thing that can prevent these accidents is better driving," he said.

To help drivers prevent rear end crashes, Commissioner Hults offered the following suggestions:

1. Always maintain a safe following distance between your car and the car ahead of you. The basic rule is one car length for every ten miles per hour of speed. For example, at 40 miles per hour, stay back at least four car lengths.

2. Never relax your attention when you are driving—especially in heavy traffic, and when you are approaching and proceeding through intersections.

3. Always signal all turns and slowdowns, so that you do not surprise or confuse drivers following you.

Challenges SUNY Ruling on Tuition

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An attorney, taking the case of his daughter, has challenged a State University rule that requires back payment of fees by students changing from tuition-free teacher-education courses to courses having tuition.

Joseph V. Graham of nearby Altamont, an attorney with the State Teachers Retirement System, brought the suit after his daughter, Ellen, was notified that she must pay $650 in retroactive university fees before she can receive a diploma.

Miss Graham, completed a liberal arts major in January at the State University College at Potsdam. She had taken tuition-free elementary - education courses for three years before changing her studies to liberal arts.

In challenging the university rule, adopted in 1963, Graham said that when his daughter enrolled at Potsdam in 1961 the college catelogue did not stipulate retroactive billing.

Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein gave the State University until Tuesday to file an answer to the complaint.
